THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Papa Stronsay, kelp kiln 120m N of Mill comprises a kelp kiln which is situated between two bays on the W side of Papa Stronsay. The arrangement of the kiln is most unusual, indeed it is the relic of an unsuccessful experiment at the turn of the 20th century. The area to be scheduled is 30m in diameter, to include the kiln and an area around in which associated remains may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Stronsay and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 6th day of December Two thousand, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
