THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Crois an Ollaimh, cross, 350m NE of Pennycross Cottage, comprises the remains of a late medieval free-standing Latin cross. The monument stands on a stepped drystone base on the N side of the road from Pennyghael to Bunessan, some 800m W of the junction with the road to Carsaig. It is a roughly-hewn Latin cross of Moine granulite. The area to be scheduled is a square with sides approximately 4.5m long and is defined by the metal railings, which surround the cross. The scheduling includes the cross, the stepped drystone base and an area around it within which related material may be expected to be found. The modern railings are excluded from the scheduling. The monument which lies in the Parish of Kilfinichen and Kilvickeon and the County of Argyll as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the, Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the [redacted] day of February Two thousand and one, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
