THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Faraclett Head, mound, 856m WNW of Faraclett comprises a low grass-covered mound, probably the remains of a prehistoric burial cairn, situated on a NW-facing hill terrace. The mound measures approximately 8m NW-SE by 6m NE-SW and stands to a height of c.0.5m, with gently sloping sides. The area to be scheduled is a circle measuring 17m in diameter centred on the centre of the mound to include the mound and an area around it in which evidence for the construction, primary use and any secondary uses of the monument may be expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Rousay and Egilsay and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of the subjects described [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 10th day of December Two thousand and one, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
