THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Dun, enclosure and cairn, 200m W of Barnluasgan comprises a stone-built dun or prehistoric defensive dwelling, an enclosure and a small cairn, sited on top of a narrow, steep-sided rocky ridge 200m W of Barnluasgan, Knapdale. The Dun consists of a substantial drystone wall enclosing an oval area. The wall is up to 2m across and up to three courses of massive stonework can be seen, particularly in the SW. The adjoining enclosure appears to, be secondary as it overlies the dun eall in the E and W. It encloses an area approximately 12m by 14m, and the drystone wall is of similar thickness (2m) to that of the dun. The cairn lies about 5m north of the outer edge of the enclosure wall, on the very edge of the highest part of the ridge, and is approximately 3m in diameter and 1.5m in height. The area to be scheduled is irregular, measuring 50m along its long axis NNE-SSW, by a maximum of 25m transversely, to include the dun, enclosure and cairn, and an area around in which evidence for their construction and use may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of North Knapdale and the County of Argyll as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 12th day of December Two thousand and one, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
