THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Upper Chatto, deserted village and moated homestead, comprises the remains of a deserted medieval settlement, or fermtoun, visible as a series of upstanding earthworks. The monument lies at a height of 205m-230m OD on a sloping, mainly N-facing site straddling Coldside Burn. The main body of the village is laid out in two rows on either side of an eroded track. On the opposite side of Coldside Burn, the remains of further enclosures, another stone-walled building and building platform, and a moated homestead occupy a low-lying terrace overlooking the Burn. The area to be scheduled comprises the remains described and an area around them within which related evidence may be expected to survive. It is irregular with maximum dimensions of 250m N-S by 150m transversely. The above-ground elements of modern fences and dykes within the area to be scheduled are specifically excluded from the scheduling. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Hownam and the County of Roxburgh as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of the subjects described in [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Sheenagh Adams, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 10th day of February Two thousand and three, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
