THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 11083
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Silverbarton Farm, cup-marks 320m ENE of, comprises a rock surface upon which a large number of cup-marks, of varying diameter, have been carved. The cup-marks are arranged in C-shaped band and appear to be related to a deep linear groove carved in the same rock surface. There is thus the appearance of a single coherent design and execution. Cup-marked rock art is generally thought to date to the period from c3500 to 1500BC. The area to be scheduled is a circle of diameter 20m centred on the main C-shaped concentration of cup-marks, to include this group and all the cup-marks and other carved marks on the exposed rock face. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Burntisland and the County of Fife as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Sheenagh Adams, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 2nd day of February Two thousand and four, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
