The monument known as Campsie Linn, grange site, comprises the footings of a group of buildings on a promontory projecting into the Tay, above a Linn, 850m south-west of Stobhall; there is traditionally said to have been a chapel of St Adamnan here. The area to be scheduled is irregular, with extreme measurements of 60m from east to west and 66m from north to south. The top 200mm of the track within the scheduled area, and the fishing bothy are excluded from the scheduling. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Cargill and the County of Perth as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto

[redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

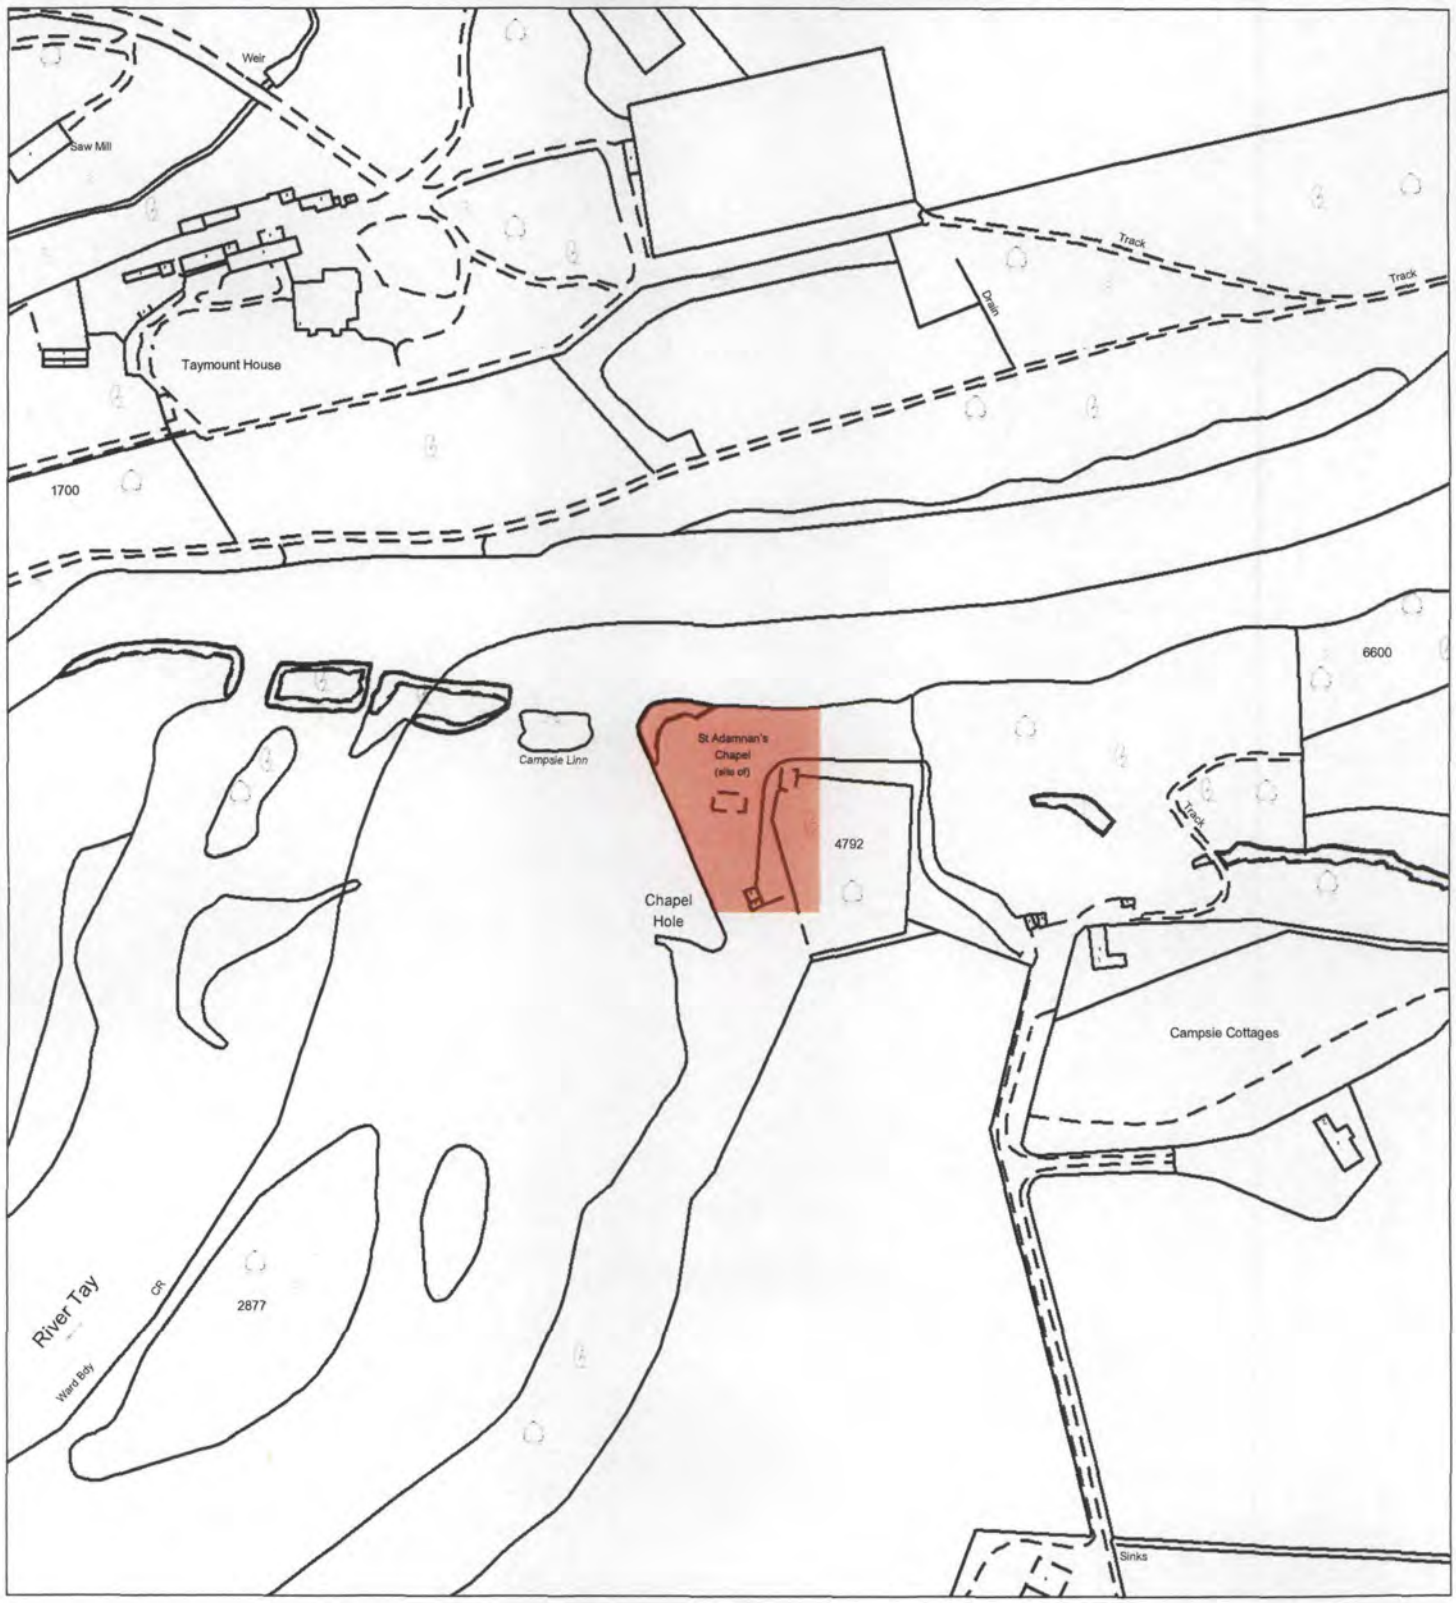

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 8 day of November Two thousand and five, before this witness Victoria Ball, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
