THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 11501
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Relaquheim, farmstead 480m SE of, Glen Ernan, comprises the remains of Deleva, a farmstead of the mid-18th century or earlier, visible as a series of upstanding banks and other features. It lies on a broad terrace at the foot of Carn Mor, on either side of the modern track, on the S bank of the Ernan Water, 480m SE of Relaquheim. The visible upstanding remains comprise nine buildings, including a kiln-barn. There are six buildings to the SW of the track. The easternmost has a single-compartment and measures 14m by 5.8m over drystone walls 0.65m thick. Attached to this is a parterre garden. To the NW is a two-compartment building, measuring 12.7m by 5.8m over drystone walls 0.7m thick. There are traces of a third building at right angles to its WNW end; a yard or midden fronts this. A rectangular platform 19m by 6.8m may represent the remains of a fourth building. The last two buildings are heavily robbed; one measures 17.4m by 4.3m, while the other measures 10.5m by 4.5m. To the N of the track, there are three buildings, including a kiln-barn measuring 12m by 5m over 0.8m thick drystone walls. The kiln-bowl is 1.6m in diameter and the flue is well preserved. SE of the kiln-barn are a yard and a building measuring 14.5m by 4.7m. NW of the kiln-barn is a two-compartment building, measuring 21m by 5.4 m over walls, 0.9m thick. Attached to it is an enclosure. The area to be scheduled consists of three discrete areas (two irregular, one rectangular), to include the remains described and an area around them within which evidence for their construction and use may survive. Specifically excluded from the scheduling to allow for its maintenance is the modern track running WNW to ESE through the monument. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Strathdon and the County of Aberdeen as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto
