THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 11662
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Nether Towie, cairn 420m NNE of, comprises a prehistoric burial cairn visible as a circular grassy mound surrounded by a ditch and outer bank. It is likely to date to the Bronze Age. The monument is located on a ridge aligned from NE to SW at 220m OD, on a mixture of cultivated land and pasture. The site comprises a central circular grassy mound, 4.5m in diameter, ringed by a shallow ditch of 3m wide. The ditch is ringed by an earth bank 3m wide. The northern section of the monument is crossed by a modern field boundary. The area to be scheduled is circular, centred on the middle of the cairn, to include the cairn and an area around in which evidence for its construction and use may survive. The above-ground elements of the existing post and wire fence running WSW to ESE across the monument are specifically excluded from the scheduling, to allow for their routine management. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Towie and the County of Aberdeen as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 21 day of March Two thousand and seven, before this witness Victoria Ball, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
