THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 11673
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Drumbain Cottage, hut circles 725m, 845m and 975m ESE of, comprises the remains of three hut circles, visible as low circular banks in heather moorland, located on a gentle SW-facing slope to the E of the river Findhorn in Strathdearn, at 400m OD. The hut circles are likely to be Late Bronze Age or Iron Age, dating to the first or second millennium BC. Each hut circle measures 10m in diameter and survives as a circular stone and earth bank measuring 2m wide. The area to be scheduled comprises three separate circular areas, centred on each hut circle, to include the remains described and an area around them within which related material may be expected to be found. The above-ground elements of the fenceline running NNE through the easternmost of the three hut circles and the top 300mm of the track running WNW to ESE are specifically excluded from the scheduling, to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Moy and Dalarossie and the County of Inverness as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 7 day of November Two thousand and seven, before this witness Victoria Ball, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
