THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 11966
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as The Hass, settlement 550m E of, Quhytewoollen Hill, comprises a large defended settlement measuring 65m by 50m within a rampart with external ditch. Likely to be of Iron-age date, the settlement is situated just off the summit of Quhytewoollen Hill at 215m above sea level, 550m E of the farm at The Hass. Preserved as a series of upstanding earthworks, the settlement is defined by a rampart 4m wide, which encloses an area measuring 65m E/W and 50m N/S, and is surrounded by an external ditch. To the south-west is a counterscarp bank, and a 4m-wide entrance passes through the rampart to the south-east. The area to be scheduled is an irregular polygon on plan to include the settlement, its banks, and an area around within which evidence relating to its construction and use may survive. The scheduled area extends up to, but excludes the enclosed reservoir to the south-east of the settlement. The scheduled area excludes the water trough and its immediate footings, to the west of the reservoir. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Dryfesdale and the County of Dumfries as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 7 day of Febry Two thousand and eight, before this witness Victoria Ball, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
