THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 12185
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as St Bryde's Kirk, church 95m W of Brydekirk Mains comprises the remains of an enclosed later medieval church used between the 12th and 16th centuries and dedicated to St Brigid. It survives as the partially exposed foundations, flooring and walling of the church, and surrounding oval-shaped enclosure and retaining wall. The church is located on low-lying ground within a small, mature copse at 20m above sea level and next to a brook which feeds the River Annan 200m to the E. The church is a rectangular-shaped building aligned E-W and measuring 11.5m by 6m internally. The site sits on a low platform that is enclosed by a substantial sub-circular wall. The area to be scheduled is a clipped circle on plan, to include the remains described and an area around within which evidence relating to their construction and use may survive. It specifically excludes the above-ground elements of the surrounding modern boundary walls and fence, to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Annan and the County of Dumfries as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 22 day of June Two thousand and eight, before this witness Victoria Ball, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
