THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 12762
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Gulf Sike, scooped settlement 525m SE of Arresgill comprises the earthwork remains of a scooped settlement dating from the late first millennium BC or early centuries AD, overlain to the north of the entrance by remains of a pre-improvement building. It lies in rough grazings on a gentle W-facing slope between 200m and 210m above sea level, adjacent to the Gulf Sike, a small burn close to the W edge of the River Esk catchment. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan to include the remains described and an area around within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The scheduling specifically excludes an electricity pole to the west of the scheduled area. To the south, the scheduled area extends up to, but specifically excludes, the Gulf Sike burn. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Langholm and the County of Dumfries as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 15 day of May Two thousand and ten, before this witness Mairi H Davies, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
