

THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 12764
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Corrie Church, church and graveyard comprises the former parish church of Corrie and the associated burial ground. The church is visible above ground as a low platform and the surrounding burial ground contains three recumbent medieval graveslabs and many later upstanding gravemarkers, some from the 17th and 18th centuries. Initial construction of the church may date to as early as the 12th century. The building went out of use in 1609 when the parishes of Corrie and Hutton were joined, though burials continued in the graveyard. The burial ground is bounded by a stone perimeter wall. It lies about 85m south-east of Corriehills at the top of a gentle east-facing slope at around 200m above sea level. The area to be scheduled is rectangular on plan to include the remains described and an area around within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The scheduled area extends up to and includes the perimeter wall of the graveyard, but specifically excludes the post-and-wire fence just outside the perimeter wall. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Hutton and Corrie and the County of Dumfries as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto

[REDACTED], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 24 day of May Two thousand and ten, before this witness Mairi H Davies, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
