THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 12861
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Knockmade Hill, homestead comprises the remains of a homestead, a small defended settlement occupied probably in later prehistory, sometime between 1200 BC and AD 400. A low grass-grown bank survives above ground, indicating the position of a roughly oval enclosure. Within the enclosure, the remains of two roundhouses also survive as low banks. The site lies in a prominent position next to the summit of Knockmade Hill at approximately 190m above sea level. The SE and SW slopes of the hill fall away steeply, limiting access to the summit. There are extensive views to the north and south. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, to include the remains described and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Lochwinnoch and the County of Renfrew as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

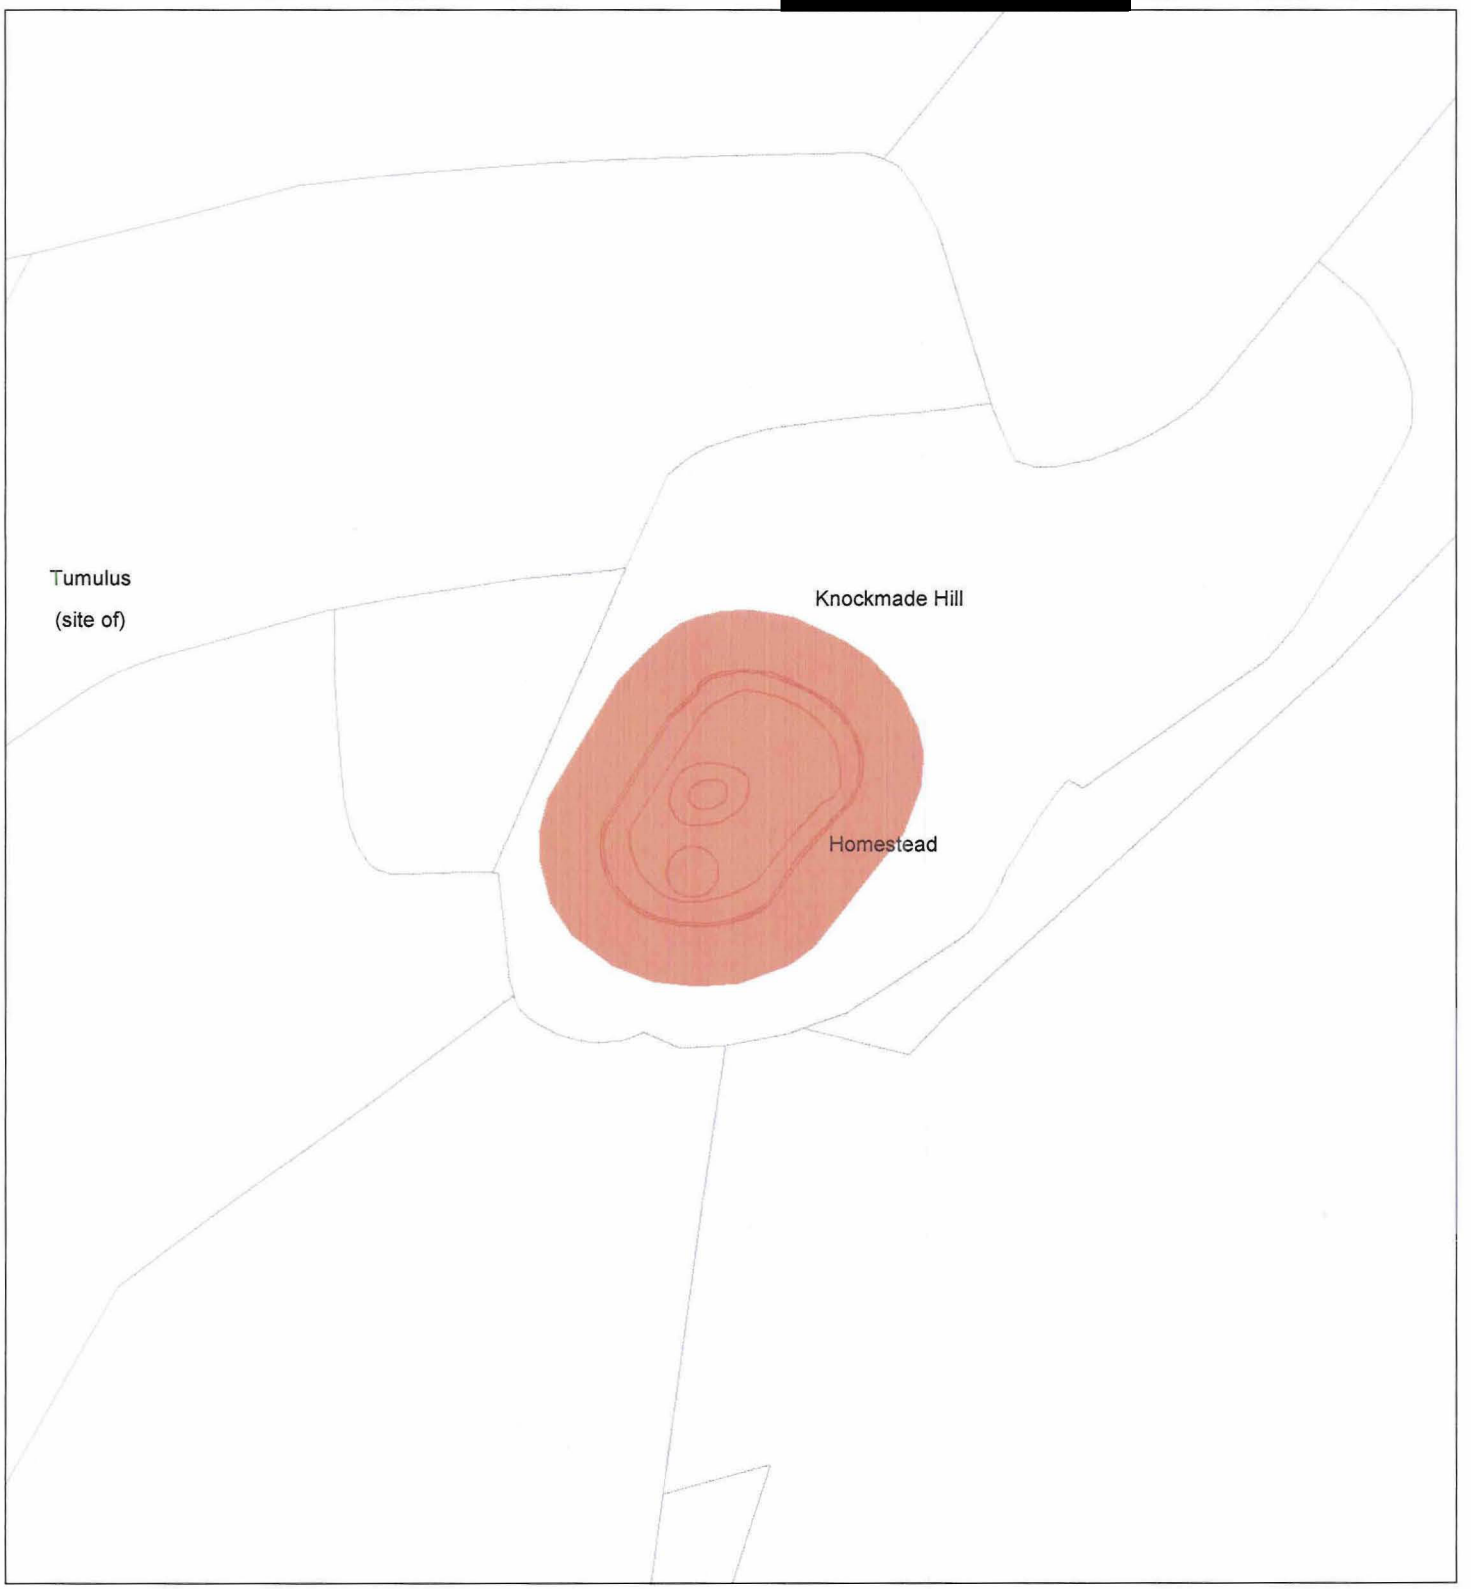

Subscribed by Deborah Mays, Deputy Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 24th day of February Two thousand and eleven, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
