THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 12862
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Marshall Moor, fort 780m NW of Bower comprises the remains of a fort occupied probably in the late Bronze Age or early Iron Age, sometime between 1200 BC and AD 400. The fort occupies the top of a wide ridge. Low grass-grown ramparts are visible at either end of the ridge, separating the fort interior from the lower ground to the north and south. The sides of the ridge are extremely steep, limiting access to the fort interior. The site lies in a prominent position at approximately 170m above sea level and there are extensive views over the surrounding landscape. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, to include the remains described and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilbarchan and the County of Renfrew as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Deborah Mays, Deputy Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 24th day of February Two thousand and eleven, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
