THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 12894
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Langbank, crannog 180m ENE of Clydeview comprises the remains of a marine crannog dating probably from the Iron Age. Clearly visible at low tide as a conspicuous oval mound of seaweed-covered stones, the crannog measures approximately 30m north-south by 20m transversely. The area to be scheduled is a slightly truncated circle on plan, with a maximum diameter of 65m, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Erskine and the County of Renfrew as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Deborah Mays, Deputy Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 24 day of February Two thousand and eleven, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
