THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 13217
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Kilcavan chapel and enclosure 265m E of Kelsay comprises the remains of an early Christian chapel and surrounding enclosure, which is most likely a burial ground. The site probably dates to the 10th-12th centuries, possibly earlier. The chapel is visible as turf-covered foundations with internal dimensions of 7.8m E-W by 4.4m N-S. Its walls are approximately 2m thick and there is evidence of an entrance in the S wall. The burial ground measures approximately 28.8m ENE-WSW by 22m transversely. The D-shaped enclosure comprises a turf-covered stone dyke, which stands up to 1m in height and width. To the N of the enclosure is a low rocky ridge. The monument is at 70m above sea level, within rough grassland on ground sloping to the S. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan. It includes the remains described above and an area around them in which evidence relating to their construction and use may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilchoman and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

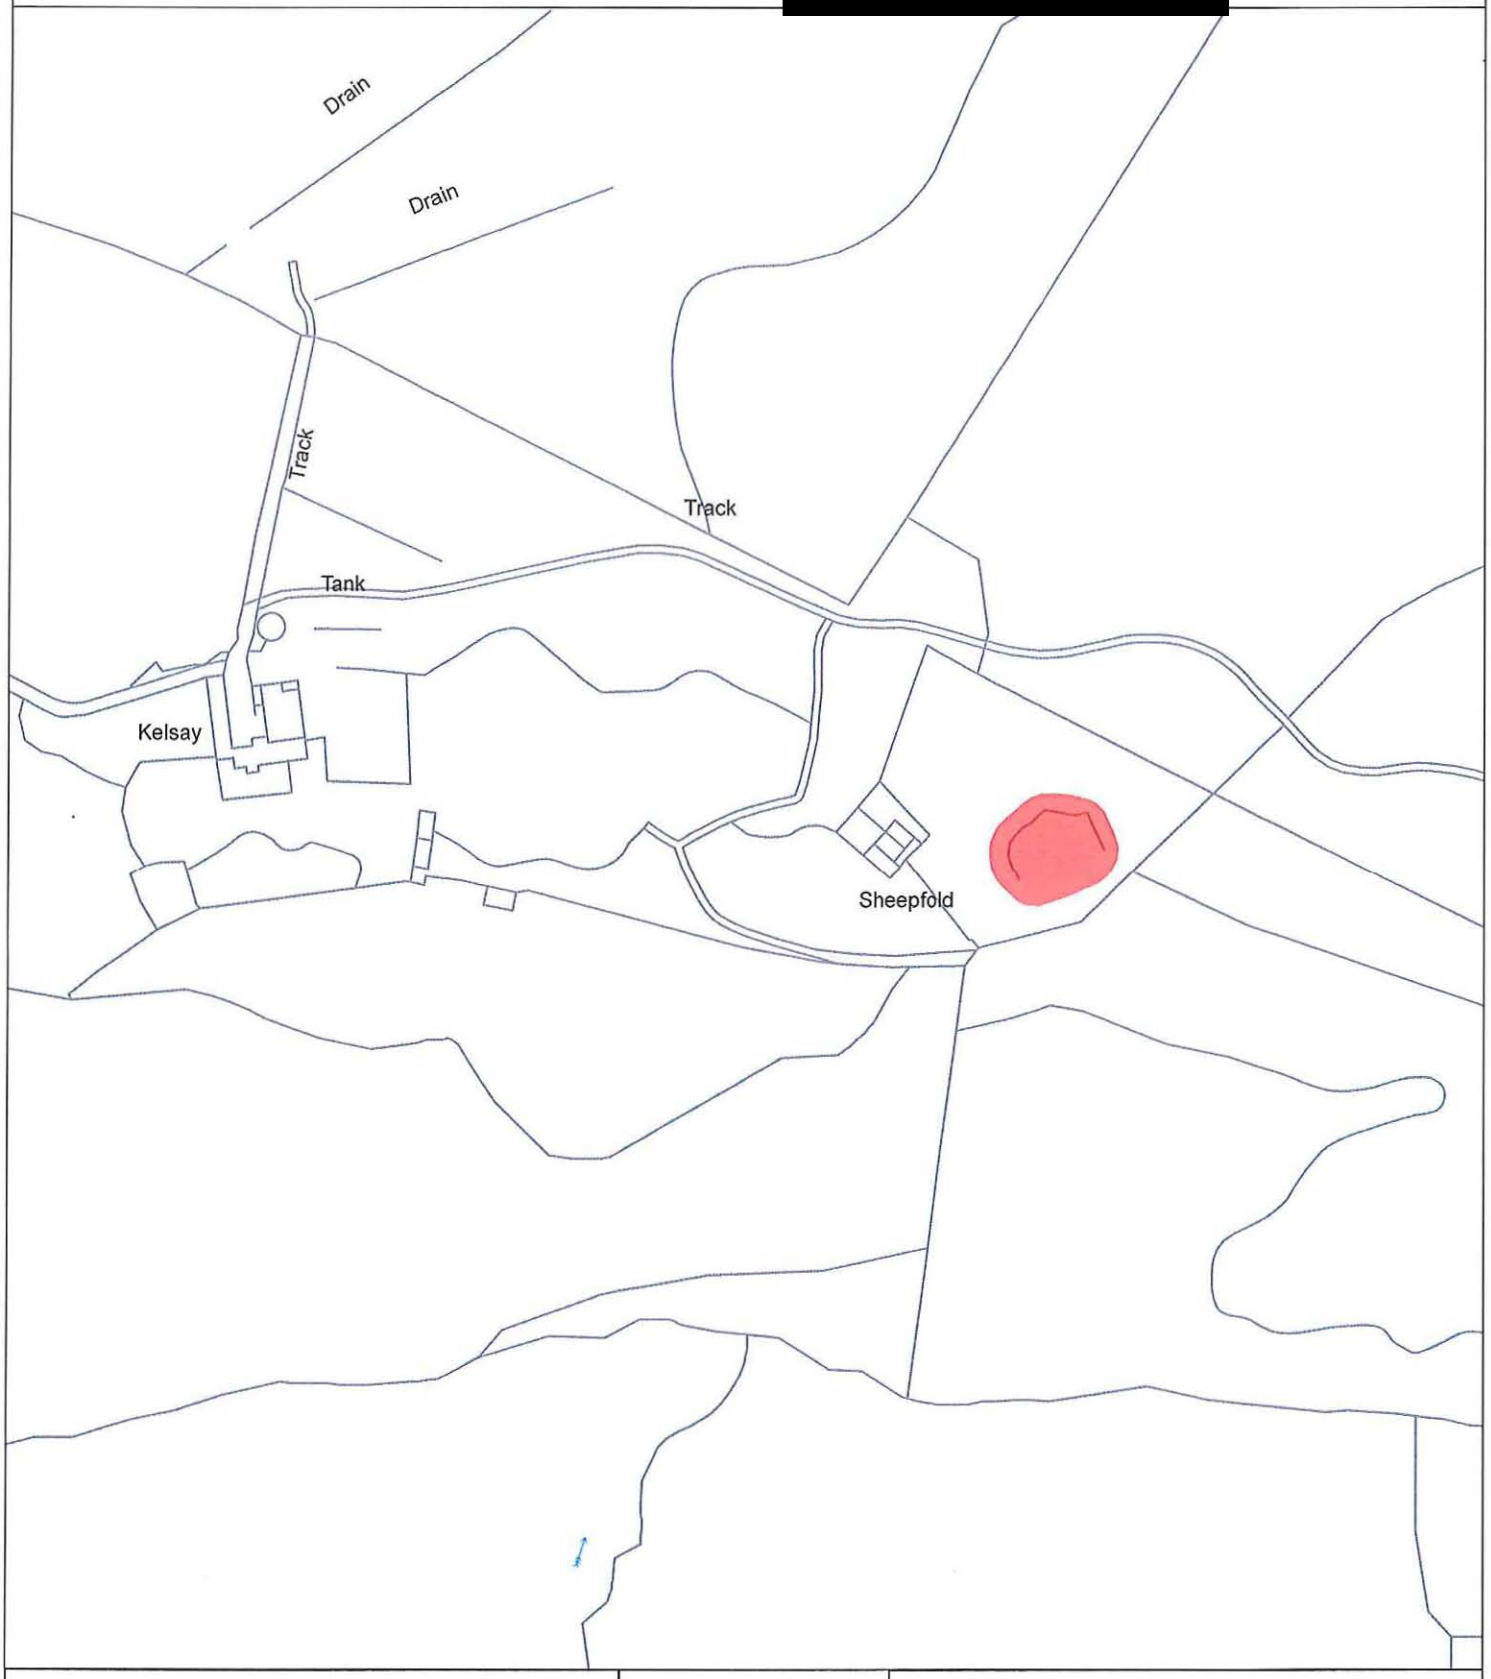

Subscribed by Barbara Cummins, Director of Heritage Management with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 30th day of May Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
