THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 13482
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Burrody's Hill, enclosed settlement comprises the remains of an enclosed prehistoric settlement dating probably to the Bronze Age or early Iron Age (sometime between about 1500 and 200 BC). The site is clearly visible on oblique aerial photographs as an oval enclosure measuring about 50m ESE to WNW by 40m transversely. The enclosure is defined by a low earthen bank, with two possible entrances to the WSW and SE. Concentrations of large stones are visible in places, particularly around the possible WSW entrance. Undulations in the interior ground surface may indicate the scooped sites of houses and other structures. A ditch runs across the NW of the enclosure. The monument is situated on the SW slopes of Burrody's Hill at around 60m above sea level and has wide views overlooking lower-lying arable land to the W, S and E. The scheduled area is oval on plan with maximum dimensions of 95m NW-SE by 85m transversely, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of a post-and-wire fence which runs across the E edge of the monument. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Holm and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of the subjects described in
