THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 13579
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Redden, settlement 60m SE of comprises the remains of a settlement dating probably to between AD 1200 and 1600. It is visible on the ground as a series of turf-covered earthworks. Several raised platforms indicate the positions of buildings, while turf-covered scarps and banks indicate trackways and enclosures. The settlement is located around 55m above sea level on the gentle S-facing slope of a low ridge that runs parallel to the River Tweed 0.5km to the NW and the Redden Burn 1.1km to the SE. The scheduled area is irregular on plan, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. On the SW and W sides, the scheduling extends up to but excludes boundary fences and their associated gates. The above-ground elements of other fences that lie within the scheduled area are also specifically excluded from the scheduling to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Sprouston and the County of Roxburgh as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

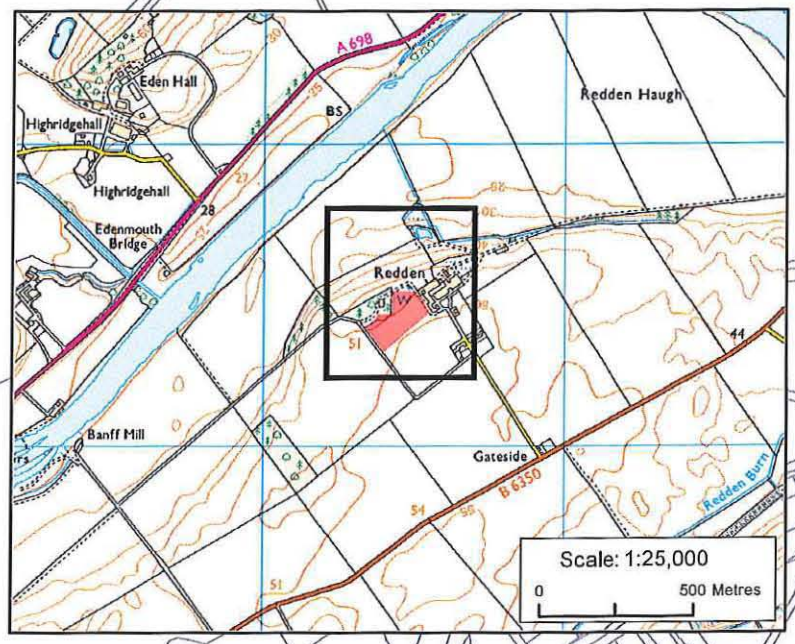

Subscribed by Barbara Cummins, Director of Heritage Management with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 25 day of AUGUST Two thousand and fifteen, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
