The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

Amended entry in the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby amends the entry in the statutory schedule of monuments as set out below.

The monument known as Knockupple, long cairn 1460m N of comprises a chambered long cairn dating to the Neolithic period, and probably built and in use between 3800 BC and 2500 BC. It survives as a turf covered stone mound which is roughly trapezoidal in plan. The monument is located on a gentle east facing slope at about 225m above sea level.

The scheduled area is oval on plan to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive.

The monument, which lies in the Parish of Dumbarton and the County of Dumbarton as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Long Cairn on right bank of Gallangad Burn 860 yds NE of Junction of Gallangad Burn with Knockupple Burn at Dumbarton Muir as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 1 October 1970 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Dumbarton on 30 October 1970.
