The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

Amended entry in the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(5) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby amends the following entry in the statutory schedule of monuments:

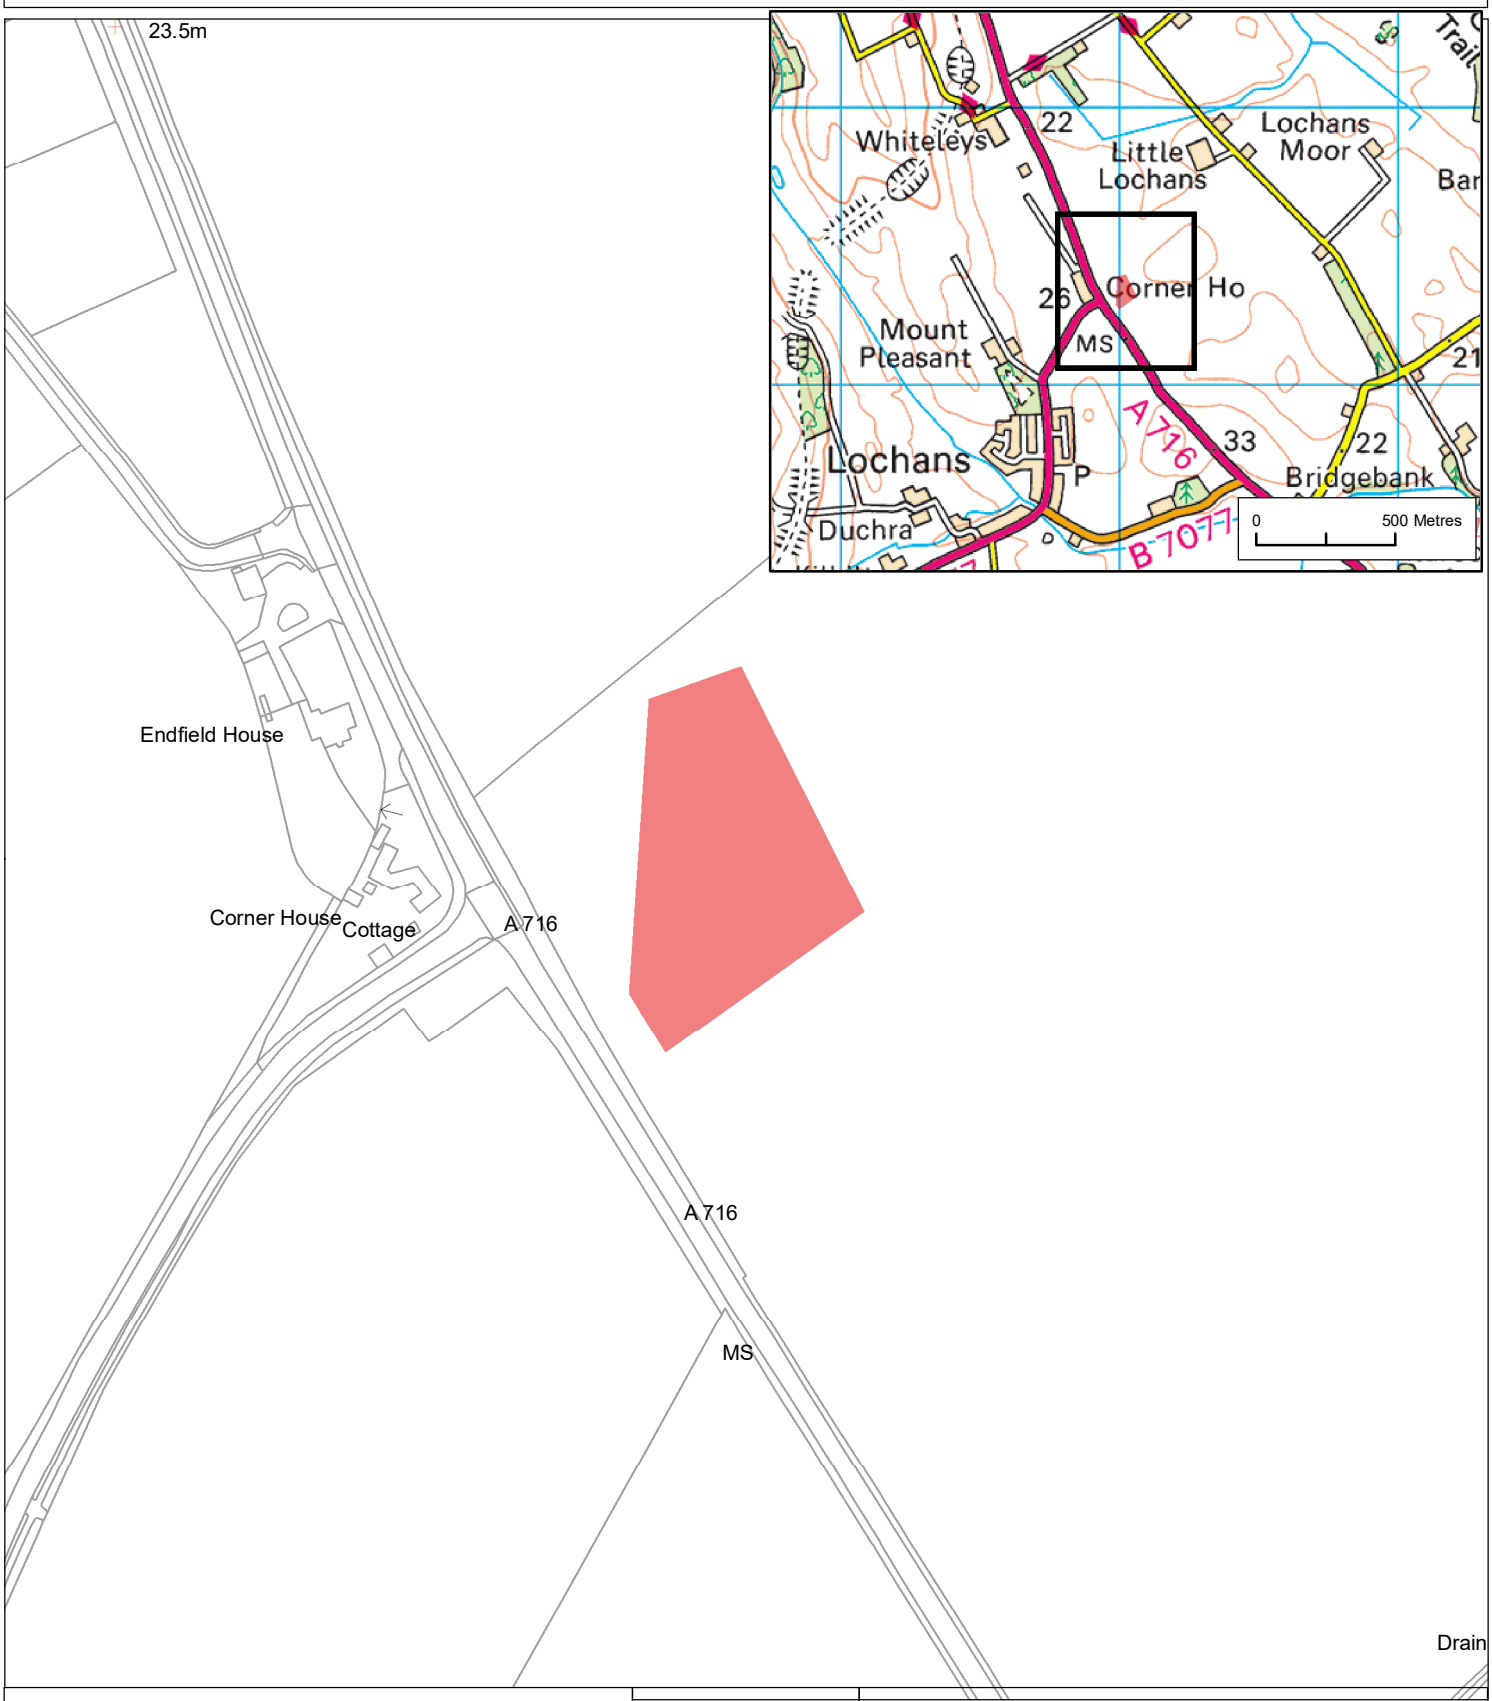

Barrows, 125m ESE of Endfield House comprises the remains of four barrows of prehistoric to Early Medieval date, which survive as buried archaeological features that visible by cropmarks on oblique aerial photographs. The monument lies in arable farmland, at a height of around 30m above sea level, in the Parish of Inch and the County of Wigtown.

The scheduled area is irregular. It includes the remains described above and an area around within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive, as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto.

This entry supersedes the entry in the schedule of monuments for the monument previously known as Little Lochans, barrow & ring-ditches 520m SW of as referred to in the entry in the schedule of monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland dated 16 March 1999 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Wigtown on 29 June 1999.

Authorised by Allan Rutherford, Deputy Head of Designations with Historic Environment Scotland on 29/08/2023.

This is the plan referred to in the entry in the Schedule affecting:
